

JANE C. STOUTENBURG (JORDAN)

June 1958

To the members of the ninth grade class:

Congratulations! You have successfully completed an important part of your education - the elementary and the junior high school grades. It is a good time to reflect on your progress, to consider the importance of the next step in your education, and to determine that future success will be yours.

You are young people who can still set the course and direction of your lives. Remember that success in adult life demands that you begin to build toward your goals now, day by day and year by year. May each of you place your standards high and have the good fortune to realize your ambitions.

We at Boynton shall miss you, your many fine contributions, and the happy worthwhile hours we have spent together.

Good luck!
